DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-30 have been examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the subject matter is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

4. Claims 1-30 are directed to a method of transmitting a decoder core to be used with a predefined content decoder which are both recited as a software in the disclosure. The examiner asserts that the limitation of the claims does not fall within the statutory classes listed in 35 USC 101. The language of the claims raises a question as to whether the claims are directed merely to an abstract idea/software that is not tied to a technological art, environment or machine which would result in a practical application producing a concrete, useful, and tangible result to form the basis of statutory subject matter under 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Art Unit: 2132

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hurtado et al. (hereinafter referred to as Hurtado) (U.S. Patent No. 6,611,812 B2).

63) 7. As per claim 1, 14, 24, 27 and 29, Hurtando discloses a method comprising: transmitting a decoder core to be used with a predefined content decoder, the decoder core comprising instructions for causing the predefined content decoder to decrypt an encrypted version of digital content. [column 6, lines 10-14] (Once the end user receive permission from the a clearing house after requesting permission, it will be able to access/get the decryption key stored in the container sent/transmitted to the end user/decoder. The end user, by using the decrypting key stored in the container, will decrypt/reproduce/play the previously encrypted content. The method to delivery encrypted digital content to the end user system for the playing/reproducing of the content is also explained on column 5, lines 59-60 and receiving a secure container/storage/medium containing the decrypting key for decrypting the previously encrypted content is also explained on column 5, lines 66-column 6, line 1; column 6, lines 6-10)

Art Unit: 2132

8. As per claim 2 and 30, Hurtando discloses a method as applied to claim above.

68) Furthermore Hurtando discloses the method further comprising receiving a request to access digital content, wherein the transmitting comprises transmitting in response to the request.[column 6, lines 10-14] (End user receive permission from the a clearing house after requesting permission then it will be able to access/get the decryption key stored in the container received or sent/transmitted to the end user/decoder by the clearing house. The end user, by using the decrypting key stored in the container, will decrypt/reproduce/play the previously encrypted content.)

9. As per claim 3-9; 20-23, Hurtando discloses a method as applied to claim above.

68) Furthermore Hurtando discloses the method further comprising receiving a request to access digital content, wherein the transmitting comprises transmitting in response to the request and the decoder core further comprising a decryption key.[column 6, lines 10-14 and column 5, lines 66-column 6, line 14] (The end user is controlled from the reproduction/playing of the content/data in accordance with information stored in the secured container. First the end user gets authentication permission to access the decryption key stored in the secured container to decrypt the content. The clearing house, based on the authentication result, will judge whether or not the end user is authorized to get the permission to access the decryption key stored in the container/storage/medium. If the end user passes the authentication process, it is permitted by the, clearing house to decrypt the content. And the end user will receive a secure container encrypted using the encrypting key of the end user for decrypting the previously encrypted content. The end user using the encrypting key^{to} access the decryption key for decrypting the content.)

Art Unit: 2132

10. As per claim 10-11, Hurtando discloses a method as applied to claim above.

Furthermore Hurtando discloses the method wherein the content-specific obfuscated software corresponds to a content-specific encryption algorithm, the method further comprising:

encrypting the requested digital content using the content-specific encryption algorithm; and delivering the encrypted digital content.[column 5, lines 59-60] (method to delivery encrypted digital content to the end user system for the playing/reproducing of the content)

11. As per claim 12-13 & 25-26, Hurtando discloses a method as applied to claim above.

Furthermore Hurtando discloses the method wherein the predefined content decoder comprises a previously delivered media player. [column 6, lines 10-14] (Once the end user receive permission from the a clearing house, it will be able to access the decryption key stored in the container received or sent to the end user. The end user by using the decrypting key stored in the container wil decrypt/reproduce/play the previously encrypted content.)

12. As per claim 15-19, Hurtando discloses a method as applied to claim above.

Furthermore Hurtando discloses the method wherein receiving a decoder core comprises receiving the encrypted digital content and the decoder core together. [column 5, lines 59-

60;column 5, lines 66-column 6, line 1; column 6, lines 6-10] (As shown on column 5, lines 59-

60 the method of delivering encrypted digital content to the end user system for the playing/reproducing of the content is explained . Furthermore receiving a secure container/storage/medium containing the decrypting key for decrypting the previously encrypted content is also disclosed and meets the recitation of the claim.)
